Hosting a Course

Certification courses are offered regularly in Wisconsin, New York and Boston, where the Schroth-Barcelona Institute (SBI) instructors have access to necessary gym equipment and patient volunteers. However, we are also available to teach at host clinics and hospitals both in the US and internationally. This is often a more cost-effective and convenient option when there are training needs for multiple therapists from one institution or one geographic region.

Schroth-Barcelona Institute instructors charge a flat rate to teach the course at a host location. The host is responsible for course registrations, facility and coordination of patient volunteers for lab. For complete information on hosting a certification course, email us info@schroth-barcelonainstitute.com.

Schroth-Barcelona Institute instructors are also available to teach two-day introductory courses at a host location. The host is still responsible for registration but because these courses are not certification courses, there are no facility or lab patient requirements. SBI instructors still charge a flat rate for teaching the introductory course but there are no limitations on course size and courses are open to non-physical therapists. Complete information on hosting an introductory course is coming soon.

If you are interested in hosting either a certification course or an introductory course, please send information to info@schroth-barcelonainstitute.com. Please include the following information:

- What is your clinic or hospital name?
- Are you interested in the Certification or Introductory course?
- Do you currently have Schroth trained therapists at your facility?
- Do you currently have a Schroth gym at your facility?
- Do you currently have access to Schroth TRAINED patients that would volunteer for lab?
- Do you currently have access to UNTRAINED scoliosis patients that would volunteer for lab?
- Approximately how many therapists do you have interested in certification or introductory training?
- Please list the year(s) and month(s) you are interested in hosting.

Please feel free to email any additional questions you may have regarding the course hosting.
